PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Greetings and Happy Spring! There are big plans afoot with the college of nursing and we hope you will come to Homecoming and hear about them from Dean Christman. Did you know we are now part of Rush University? Rush University will immediately encompass Rush Medical Colltge, Rush College of Nursing and Allied Health Sciences and Rush Graduate College. Other colleges will be added as appropriate.

Homecoming this year will be April 26. Your Board of Directors recognizes that we have deviated from the standard date of the third Thursday in April, but had we maintained that date this year, Homecoming would have fallen on Monday and so we decided on April 26th instead.

There have been many changes on the RPSLH campus this year so read the Homecoming information carefully printed elsewhere in this issue. Schweppe-Sprague is no longer available to us as we are remodeling for the college. There's a big new rise parking garage for your car, too, I am sure you will recognize a few familiar landmarks!

I look forward to greeting many of you in person on that day and I am especially anxious to see my classmates—it's twenty years for us! Do come and hear the plans and see the changes!

Dorothy Hughes
President

ANNOUNCING RUSH UNIVERSITY

Reprinted from NEWS ROUNDS, January, 1973

Rush-Presbyterian-St. Luke's employees will no longer be working only for a hospital or a medical center. They will now also be working for a university.

Plans were recently announced for Rush University, a senior health university that will produce enough manpower to provide care for a million and a half persons.

Rush University will immediately encompass Rush Medical College, Rush College of Nursing and Allied Health Sciences and Rush Graduate College. Other colleges will be added as appropriate.

Grant Professional Degrees

In addition to baccalaureate degrees in nursing and allied health sciences, the new university will grant advanced professional degrees in medicine and nursing. The graduate college, as part of the Research Institute, will grant research degrees in health related fields such as physiology, microbiology and biochemistry.

According to Dr. James A. Campbell, Rush-Presbyterian-St. Luke's President, Rush University will graduate 100 doctors and 500 nurses per year in addition to a substantial number of allied health personnel.

"This will assure a balanced system by providing sufficient manpower for the given population and by continually replacing those who leave it," Dr. Campbell said.

Served by Single Faculty

Programs for all three colleges will be served by a single faculty.

"A unified faculty—one with common goals and approaches to the education of health manpower—serves to unite care, education and research while increasing the possibility of logical entry, departure, and re-entry within the educational system," Dr. Campbell said.

Antecedents for creation of Rush University date from 1837 when Rush Medical College, first medical school in the State of Illinois, was established. When Rush closed in 1942, it had graduated more than 10,000 physicians. The St. Luke's Hospital of Nursing began in 1885, the Presbyterian school in 1903, both graduating more than 6,000 nurses. From its inception in 1957 until it closed in 1968, the combined Presbyterian-St. Luke's Hospital School of Nursing produced 1,141 R.N.'s. In addition to doctors and nurses, Rush-Presbyterian-St. Luke's has produced thousands of allied health personnel ranging from inhalation therapists to psychiatric occupational therapists.

Integral Part of the System

Rush Medical College was reactivated last year and presently has 195 enrolled students; Rush College of Nursing and Allied Health Sciences will accept its first undergraduate and graduate students in the fall of 1973. It is anticipated that the first students admitted to Rush Graduate College will arrive in 1975.

In 1969, Rush-Presbyterian-St. Luke's Medical Center was created through a merger of Presbyterian-St. Luke's Hospital, Rush Medical College, and the Central Free Dispensary. At that time, Dr. Campbell announced plans to establish, "during the next decade," a health university. The 1969 state charter issued to Rush-Presbyterian-St. Luke's specifically contemplated "creation of one or more health, research and educational institutions for physicians, scientists, nurses and other allied personnel" and made provisions to grant appropriate academic honors and degrees.

"Rush University will be an integral component in the Rush-Presbyterian-St. Luke's plan to build a balanced and comprehensive health system that will serve as a prototype for the nation," Dr. Campbell said. "When complete, this model system will combine all local health care functions necessary to serve a million and a half people at all socio-economic levels. One hundred-thirty systems similar to ours would provide rational health care and education for our nation."

Other existing or announced component already in the Rush-Presbyterian-St. Luke's system include: a core teaching hospital (Presbyterian-St. Luke's); a medical school (Rush Medical College), a network of affiliated hospitals in urban, suburban and rural areas; a health maintenance organization; a neighborhood health center (Mile Square); a geriatric health center (Johnston R. Bowman); an outpatient mental health facility (Marshall Field IV Center); a multi-disciplinary research institute; a nursing college (Rush College of Nursing and Allied Health Sciences); and two branch hospitals (Park Forest South and Schaumburg).

ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS RUSH COLLEGE OF NURSING AND ALLIED HEALTH SCIENCES

Undergraduate Program

The Rush College of Nursing and Allied Health Sciences will be admitting students into their program in September, 1973. The College of Nursing will function on the premise that nursing is an applied science and its practitioners need sound foundations in the behavioral and biophysical sciences. Students may be admitted into the College of Nursing through several methods.

Entrance through a Pre Health Curriculum in a College or University Affiliated with Rush:

Students enrolled in colleges and universities affiliated with Rush University may be registered in those schools and at Rush simultaneously. (A list of such schools is available upon request.) Prospective students must have graduated from an approved high school or provide evidence of successful completion of the General Education Development Test (GED). The following guidelines represent admission needs of freshman students entering the Rush program through affiliated schools:

Sixteen units of secondary education including:

English	4 units
Mathematics	2 units (algebra, geometry, trigonometry)
Laboratory Science	2 units (biology, physics, chemistry)
Social Science	2 units (history, foreign language, behavioral science)
Additional	6 units (academic subjects)

Completion of entrance examinations including the College Entrance Examination Board Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) or American College Testing Examination (ACT) and three College Entrance Board Achievement Tests (English composition, mathematics or science and one examination of the student's choice).

NOTE: Acceptable SAT or ACT scores for admission are determined by each of the affiliating colleges or universities. (The average SAT score ranges between 1030-1100 or the network schools.)

Recommendations from the student's high school principal or counselor and other admission requirements as specified by the affiliating college or universities.

Students transferring into the Rush program in affiliating schools must comply with the transfer policies and requirements of the college or university involved.

Entrance into the Upper Division to Rush College of Nursing:

The last two years in the College of Nursing are spent on the Rush campus with certain courses offered on the Illinois Institute of Technology campus. Students are promoted or transferred into this program if they have successfully completed a minimum of sixty semester college hours including:

	Semester Hours
Inorganic Chemistry	4
Organic Chemistry	4
Human Anatomy and Physiology	8
Microbiology	4
Statistics (mathematics)	3
Behavioral Sciences	12
Electives	25

Those enrolled in affiliating colleges and universities are eligible for promotion into the upper division upon successful completion of the above hours and recommendation of the college or university faculty. Transfer applicants not enrolled in affiliated schools must apply through the Registrar's Office, Rush University and submit the following information:

Transcripts of required college courses as previously identified.

SAT or ACT examination scores.

A recommendation of a college counselor or other appropriate faculty member.

Completed physical examination.

Interview by Rush personnel.

Registered nurse applicants who have completed the necessary college requirements can take selective proficiency written and clinical examinations in basic nursing courses or advanced placement. Specific information regarding these examinations will be forwarded upon request.

Graduate Admissions

For admission to the graduate program at Rush College of Nursing and Allied Health Sciences, the student must show evidence of a grade point average of 3.0 (4.0 scale) for the last two academic years. The student must be licensed or certified by the appropriate body or give evidence of intention to be certified or licensed. Each student must submit a completed physical examination form. Two transcripts from each professional school and/or institution of higher learning previously attended must be submitted, along with a total of three letters of reference from academic and/or work experience. In addition, Graduate Record Examination scores are to be submitted. The student is expected to participate in a personal interview with faculty members in his or her area of specialty.

Students in the following categories must meet all general admission requirements above and those listed below which apply to them:

Graduate Program in Nursing; Baccalaureate degree with major other than Nursing: Students must pass an examination required by the College of Nursing and Allied Health Sciences to determine skills and knowledge, as well as potential for professional practice and study in an elected field of specialization.

Foreign Students: All documents are to be submitted along with an authorized English translation where submitted in language other than English. The students must pass the English Proficiency Test (TOEFL) where English is not the first language of the native country. In addition, the student must pass an examination required by the College of Nursing and Allied Health Sciences to determine skills and knowledge, as well as potential for professional practice and study in an elected field of specialization.

Early Admissions: All early admissions are conditional and are based upon completion of requirements for a baccalaureate degree, state and other general requirements.

Special Students: Those non-matriculating students who wish to take courses in the graduate school must do so with the approval of the Dean and the graduate faculty.

Recruitment of Minorities

There will be no discrimination on the basis of race, color, national origin, creed or sex. Because of the great lack of black nurses and men in nursing, both in the community as well as the nation at large, an active recruitment program will be developed. It is anticipated that special funds, both public and private, will be necessary to subsidize the enrollment of minority students. The Dean and other officers of the Medical Center are committed to securing funds for this purpose.

Applicants seeking admission should write to the Office of Admissions, Rush College of Nursing and Allied Health, 1725 West Harrison Street, Chicago, Illinois, 60612 and request an application form. An application fee of $15.00 will be requested and is non-refundable.

After the sixty hours of the pre-health curriculum have been completed either through credits earned or by examination, students enter the junior year or clinical portion of the program. A Faculty Committee is planning to develop a proficiency examination for registered nurses which could exempt the candidate from some portion of the program. The fourth or senior year must be spent in residence in the college.

At present the college is investigating the possibility of using C.L.E.P. (College Level Entrance Program) to determine how credit can be granted for previous knowledge which did not receive college credit.

In addition, the Dean has appointed a committee to develop a work-study program. Details of the plan will be made available as soon as possible. Employees of Rush-Presbyterian-St. Luke's Medical Center will be given preference in the work-study program.

More complete curriculum details will be published in a later issue. If in the meantime anyone wishes further information or counsel, please feel free to communicate with Dean Christman (extension 5818).

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

The Alumni Association honored two faithful members at the Homecoming Banquet on April 26, 1973. Excerpts from the President's Speech follow:

"Those of you who have worked on committees or served as officers of this organization know quite well that there is much work connected with fulfilling the responsibilities of these offices. Unless you have personally given of your time and self, it is difficult to realize the time, effort, and energy that any one individual can expend in providing the services that generate and maintain the momentum that this Alumni Association has had in the past and will need in the future to serve the graduates of the Rush College of Nursing."

"There is such an individual seated up here at the speakers table with me this evening. There would have been two. One, however, was unable to be with us tonight. Both deserve public recognition and acclaim for their years of service to this Alumni Association and the board of directors has chosen to this night. I do not believe I have to identify Edna Travers or Kay Gdalan by name as they are familiar and well known to all of you. For as long as I have been a part of this organization, they have both given unselfishly of their time — much of it in behind the scenes activities."

"We call Edna our financial advisor — for years she's invested our money and probably knows more bankers in this town than anyone I know; she has answered much of the correspondence that comes our way with personal notes, usually includes a recent copy of the News & Views, and as a result ends up with another active member on our membership list; the organization of the Alumni office in Schweppe-Sprague is largely due to her efforts. In short, she has oriented many of us younger members to our duties and responsibilities in the association — and we are grateful."

"Kaye has served several terms as President of this group, but that does not begin to describe the hours she has spent keeping the Alumni Office in order, changing address files and addressing correspondence. Each time you have received mail, ballots or a copy of the News & Views, that piece of mail has been addressed by someone working long hours in the Alumni office — that someone has usually been Kaye. When the postal inspector calls to tell me he is investigating our mailing practices, it's Kaye who straightens him out. She, too, has served to orient us newcomers to the tasks involved in running the organization and we are equally grateful to her."

"On behalf of the entire membership, it is my privilege to present to you a small token of our thanks for your loyalty, devotion and service to the Alumni Association."

Edna was present at the banquet and received a standing ovation from those present. Kaye, who was out of town due to a death in the family, was honored at a separate luncheon given in Room 600 of the Professional Building at noon on May 2, 1973. The luncheon was hosted by her husband Louis Gdalmán, who enjoyed the event as much as Kay did!

A Message From Madeleine McConnell To All Alumni

May 13, 1973

Luther Christman, Ph.D., Dean of our Rush College of Nursing and Dorothy Hughes, President of our Alumni Association have informed Alumni members and friends the purpose of the College and the need for our support. Support can materially help attain the goal — quality nursing, a necessary part of the Rush-Presbyterians-St. Luke's Medical Center.

Several important reasons for participation by all of us are:

1. Year after year Homecoming demonstrates an extraordinary sense of loyalty.
2. Our Board and Directors have the vision and each one of us can assist in the achievement of quality nursing.
3. We are grateful that the school is reestablished and on the collegiate level.
4. We recognize that through the leadership and responsibility for education and service there can be ongoing research studying and appraising both the learning and giving aspects of nursing.
5. Finally we have a unique and urgent opportunity. Ours is a non-government institution, it has been since its inception completely free to accept when desirable federal, state and local tax support as well as individual and organization gifts. Our Board of Trustees have always had an unusual perceptive understanding of the health needs not only of Chicago but of the whole Midwest. Our president has knowledge of the medical requirements of our complex and ever changing society, also the will and ability to gather about him health specialists who can take part in creating an independent, non-governmental medical center — Our Rush Medical Center.

The center needs quality nursing. We have all heard the saying, "nursing isn't as good as it used to be". Nobody thinks that 'used to be' can meet the needs of today and tomorrow. We can help provide good education and good care by our contributions, large and small.

Miss Madeline McConnell

We are very happy to announce that Mary Treleaven Saunders (SL 1918) is not deceased as previously reported. She is living at St. Mary's Hospital, 35 Grosvenor Street, London, Ontario, Canada. She is now 88 years old.

Thank You

The class of 1923 of St. Luke's Hospital wishes to thank the Alumni Association for giving us a wonderful day. We truly enjoyed meeting so many people—a tour of the hospital—and honoring us at the banquet.

Sincerely,
Alma Brehm, Denver, Colorado
Margaret Sloman, Escondido, California
Hazel Benton, Chicago, Illinois
Dorothea McMillan, Mt. Pleasant, Iowa

Dean, College of Nursing
Rush University
1725 West Harrison Street
Chicago, Illinois 60612

Dear Dr. Christman:

I am sure you are very much aware of the enthusiasm generated amongst the Alumni when it was announced that a College of Nursing would be a part of Rush-Presbyterian-St. Luke's Medical Center.

The Alumni Association is most anxious to be of assistance to you in the organizational stages of the College of Nursing, and would offer the support and assistance of the officers and board of directors to help in any way that you might think we could be of some value. We are, as you know, eager to keep the spirit of the current Alumni Association alive, and would be open to your suggestions.

Sincerely,
Dorothy Hughes

Dear Miss Hughes:

Thank you for your gracious letter stating the high level of enthusiasm that the members of the Alumni Association have for the College. We are very pleased that there is such a high degree of enthusiasm and acceptance.

It is very pleasing to Rush that the officers and members of the Association wish to be of assistance and to have a close relationship with us. It would seem very appropriate that the graduates of our college would be offered membership in the Alumni Association. Through this means, the bond between the present Alumni and the future Alumni could be made.

I will be very interested in your response.

Sincerely,
Luther Christman, Dean

EDITOR'S NOTE:

This year has been and is still a very busy year for our Alumni Association. The reactivation of the College of Nursing has presented many challenges to the Alumni, including the future graduates. In this issue you will find an exchange of letters between the president of the Alumni and the dean of the college. Your comments and opinions on the matter will be appreciated.

Also, you will find another list of lost people. The key to our survival is in membership. Your help is essential.

As is typical for this issue, following the great exchange of news at Homecoming, class news is sparse. In reading your letters, the biggest complaint I see is "There is never much from my class". The best way to change this is for you to let others know what is going on in your life. Your classmates want to know where you are, how many children you have, what keeps you busy. The easiest way to tell them is to tell us!

In this year's Annual Report, I wish to thank the Board of Directors, the Committee Chairman, the Members of each committee, and the Members at large for their continued support of the Alumni Association. Not since the merger of the two Alumni Associations, has the Board had to make so many vital decisions.

During the past year we have conducted four board meetings and held four regular meetings with the membership at large. Special meetings were called as indicated to conduct the business of the organization.

The opening of the College of Nursing brought with it a promise of the Alumni Association to provide $30,000 for the furnishing of a Skills laboratory. To date $10,000 has been donated and we have pledged a similar donation for the next two years.

The Golden Lamp Society has been firmly established thanks to the generosity of the Alumni Association membership. Donations have come from all over the United States, small and large, and we are currently establishing the executive committee which will set rules and regulations for the government of the Society. We look forward to your continued support over the coming years.

Best wishes for a Happy Holiday Season and a Joyous New Year.

Respectfully Submitted,
Dorothy Hughes
President

ANNUAL REPORT TREASURER — 1973

Mesdames:

We have examined the Statement of Financial Condition of the Alumni Association, Presbyterian-St. Luke's Hospital School of Nursing as of August 31, 1973 and related statements of cash receipts and disbursements of the several funds for the year ended. Our examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and accordingly included such tests of the accounting records and such other auditing procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances.

In our opinion, the aforementioned statements present fairly the financial position of the Alumni Association, Presbyterian-St. Luke's Hospital School of Nursing at August 31, 1973, arising from cash transactions, and the revenue collected and expenditures made by it and changes in fund balances during the year ended on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

Respectfully submitted,
Pinzur, Bernstein, Paull & Woloshin
